About the Program

About the Program – Part 1 (Analysing the Ladies' Bazi)

This course provides an intriguing insight into one of the very core subjects of Bazi – ladies' destiny.

At a specialist level, we present to you how the ancient bazi study during the Qing and Ming dynasties has categorized women destiny chart into 8 types namely:

Pure 纯
Clear 清
Harmonious 和
Noble 贵
Confused 濁
Flirtatious 濫
Promiscuous 娼
Lustful 淫

With the modernisation and westernization taking place during the last century, the social status of women has evolved. Is the classification of ladies' destiny chart still relevant? In today's context, what is then perceived as an auspicious bazi that a lady should have? How do we know if a lady belong to noble chart or lustful one? Why is she always bullied by husband? Why did she always end up with jerk? Tai-tai bazi and more.

Besides making reference to classical bazi literatures for ladies' life, the class will also be packed with real-life cases (women from all walks of life) to increase your exposure to unusual bazi and by doing this, we aim to bring your bazi skill to the next level. We will specially look into quality of spouse star, marriage palace, relationship palace, children palace, luck cycle and whatever a woman needs to know.

We will also introduce important Golden Verses extracted from Ladies Life Classics (女命金口诀) plus Concept of 12 Growth Stages (十二长生诀) as added skillset for quick and accurate analysis.

About the Program – Part 2 (Chinese Wedding Date Selection)

In traditional Chinese wedding, it usually involves more than just the couple. Altogether, at least, 6 people are involved, i.e., parents from both sides.

So, when we are picking an auspicious timing for them to get wed, we need to ensure parents' zodiac signs are not compromised.

In our Chinese calendar system, each day is governed by the energy of one zodiac sign. Imagine 6 different zodiac signs are involved in a wedding event and that left us with only 6 types of day to look at that don't clash into the parties.

Most couple would prefer weekends or only Saturday. So this further reduces the probability or limit the options of hitting a very auspicious day that can satisfy the party of 6.

I m sharing this to illustrate the challenges that a wedding date practitioner typically face. Nevertheless, despite the uphill task date selection practitioners face at times, it is ultimately a joy we share with the wedding couple.

A properly and carefully selected date and time always cast a positive and long lasting effect on the marriage.

This segment of the course teaches and equips you with all the necessary knowledge and skillset to pick a good wedding date and time for your clients and friends.

In fact, in our system that follows closely on the teaching of the Chinese Wedding Date Selection classic known as Jia Qu Sui Jin Fu (嫁娶碎金赋), almost 90% of the verses and date selection formula are designed in such a way to ensure woman will NOT get bullied by the in laws.

The principles laid down in this classic, which is the authority followed by many Chinese, ensure the timing used for the wedding event will prosper the couple, aid the conception of baby and most importantly, mitigate any potential conflicts that the bride will have with the in-laws.

The course will also share with you in modern context, what are the imperatives and procedures that we need to observe – including UNUSUAL requests that we encountered – so that you are equipped with the real world experiences.
